

Q88.com Launches Collaborative Position List for Tanker Brokers

Stamford, Connecticut – 18 May 2017 – Q88 LLC announced today the launch of a new Position List module on Q88.com. A collaborative position platform, the Q88 Position List offers tanker brokers a faster, simpler and more complete view of global tanker supply - in the office and on the go.

The desktop browser version offers brokers a sleek design, intuitive interface and unmatched application speed all backed by the industry standard vessel data from Q88.com. The module features accurate distances provided by AtoBviaC, Satellite AIS provided by VesselTracker.com, Detailed Search and Saved Search functionality, an Intake Calculator, and sharing capabilities with other tanker brokers belonging to the community.

Available for Android and iOS, the mobile app is accessible for download in Google Play and the App Store. The app is the first of its kind and is designed to serve the needs of a sector that is constantly on the go, needing the most up-to-date positions at all times. The mobile app features include the core features of the browser version.

Fritz Heidenreich, President, said, "After receiving requests for years from existing clients, we decided that now was the perfect time for us to build our Position List module. With 80% of the world tanker fleet on Q88.com we always felt this was a natural next step for us, and the technology available today has allowed for us to build an incredibly fast and user friendly system that could not have been built in years past. The result is a system that tankers brokers are going to love using, in the office or wherever they might find themselves needing the most up-to-date market data. We're extremely excited about the impact this system is going to have on a broker's life."

The Position List module is available to tanker brokers on Q88.com at a highly competitive, all-inclusive subscription fee. Companies taking up Q88's subscription offering during 2017 will further benefit from additional discounting.
